IX. Old Business

-Show is the second week of August (August 9-12) Lakeshore's Risings stars has stuff going on for that day.

X. New Business

-Erin began to discuss shows

1. Babes in Arms- Erin discussed that there is no big opening number, most of songs are solos. There are a lot of really good leads. Chorus isn't as active however there is a male quartet, she also discussed how it is relatable to Quince as a whole. Erin also looked really pretty in her sparkly black shirt. Alyssa and Erin then played music and it was oober amazing. Cassie added that the music was classical but also repetitive, and that the chorus didn't do a lot vocally. Emilee added that there is very little dancing especially for the chorus. Emilee opened the floor up to discussion, but no one had any questions.

2. Gypsy- Erin gave a plot synopsis, with great hand and facial expressions. Erin noted that there is a cool big band sound, and that she needs to hand pick small little girls for this show. In this show there is not chorus, but there are some smaller groups (choruses) Erin also noted that there is some good dancing, but there are not a lot of large non-dancing guy parts. Erin's necklace was also really pretty. Beth Midler's voice probably scares children. Erin really likes this musical but she has some issues with it. There are six female singing leads, two leads, and one male dancing lead. Cassie added that vocally this show is more entertaining but is lacking in the chorus department. Emilee said some of the same, and added that there are some fun dances in some of the smaller groups. Erin asked if anyone had any questions, Filthy inquired into the rating of the show and if it was appropriate for Quince to do, Erin said that she would get rid of the Black boustie and the sparkly panties, Roz was worried about the song that dealt with men and getting them to have an erection. Erin explained that there are things that can be adjusted and make things more appropriate.

3. Big- Erin gave another razzle dazzle amazing plot summary. Erin added that there are roles for everyone and leads for every person in the company. Also there are a lot of smaller solo parts that are cool for many people. We listened to some music and it was pretty neat. Cassie made comments about the abundance of leads and was concerned about the memorability of the music. Emilee really thought the music was good and upbeat and that there was some good dancing.

* OVERALL- Erin believes that all three shows are good. However Erin is worried about the size of some of the roles and the lack of roles. Babes in Arms is a more classical show. Big is a more upbeat show and a little more hip.

Overall they are three very different shows. Sweetie gave Kudos to Erin. Cassie concluded. Emilee added that Babes in Arms is going to be Classical, Gypsy has a lot of variety, and Big has the most dancing and the most “fun.”

-The Easter meeting will be on April 7th, 2007.

-Emilee discussed Production Council and the email that will be sent out from Melyssa Keil.

-The show for the 2007 season was selected to be Big.

-Emilee announced that the DVDs are in and that they work in some players but not others.

XI. Meeting adjourned at 8:14pm by Lucy Jost on December 29, 2006.
